

POETRY

THE BELLVILLE NEWS-RECORD.

I am weary of the world, of its
Sorrow and its strife,
Of its pain and its grief,
Of its joy and its life.
I am weary of the world, of its
Sorrow and its strife,
Of its pain and its grief,
Of its joy and its life.

THE FICKLENESS OF LOVE.

Alas, how fickle is love,
How fickle is love,
How fickle is love,
How fickle is love,
How fickle is love,
How fickle is love,
How fickle is love,
How fickle is love.

MISCELLANY.

ANGELINA'S DISAPPOINTMENT.

The Interceding Letter.

(CONTINUED.)

By Mrs. Anna Willis Price.

CHAPTER IV.

Angela did not attempt to analyze her emotions...

CHAPTER VI.

A STORY FROM ANGELINA'S DIARY.

I am alone, yes, truly, for I have so long with held from my mother the anguish that is breaking my heart, that now my courage fails and I am at the time I have never for my sake and claim my darling sister, I feel my strength giving way gradually, and yet I call me "Angela." No longer could I find a friend to whom I could tell my trials, I have only my mother, and she is so old and so feeble, and she is so kind, and she is so kind, and she is so kind, and she is so kind.

CHAPTER VII.

ANGELINA'S DISAPPOINTMENT.

The Interceding Letter.

(CONTINUED.)

By Mrs. Anna Willis Price.

CHAPTER IV.

Angela did not attempt to analyze her emotions...

AGRICULTURAL.

Awful Railroad Slaughter!

Twenty-three Persons Killed.

SIXTY-FIVE WOUNDED.

How the Accident Occurred.

The train of cars which left Philadelphia at ten o'clock, Sunday morning, September 10, for Washington, D. C., was a passenger train, and was composed of a locomotive, a baggage car, a
mail car, a dining car, a parlor car, a sleeping car, and a Pullman car. It was a fine train, and was well equipped for the journey. It was a fine
train, and was well equipped for the journey.

CHAPTER VII.

ANGELINA'S DISAPPOINTMENT.

The Interceding Letter.

(CONTINUED.)

By Mrs. Anna Willis Price.

CHAPTER IV.

Angela did not attempt to analyze her emotions...

AGRICULTURAL.

Awful Railroad Slaughter!

Twenty-three Persons Killed.

SIXTY-FIVE WOUNDED.

How the Accident Occurred.

The train of cars which left Philadelphia at ten o'clock, Sunday morning, September 10, for
Washington, D. C., was a passenger train, and
was composed of a locomotive, a baggage car, a
mail car, a dining car, a parlor car, a sleeping
car, and a Pullman car. It was a fine train, and was well equipped for the journey. It was a fine
train, and was well equipped for the journey.

CHAPTER VII.

ANGELINA'S DISAPPOINTMENT.

The Interceding Letter.

(CONTINUED.)

By Mrs. Anna Willis Price.

CHAPTER IV.

Angela did not attempt to analyze her emotions...

AGRICULTURAL.

Awful Railroad Slaughter!

Twenty-three Persons Killed.

SIXTY-FIVE WOUNDED.

How the Accident Occurred.

The train of cars which left Philadelphia at ten o'clock, Sunday morning, September 10, for Washington, D. C., was a passenger train, and
was composed of a locomotive, a baggage car, a
mail car, a dining car, a parlor car, a sleeping
car, and a Pullman car. It was a fine train, and was well equipped for the journey. It was a fine
train, and was well equipped for the journey.

CHAPTER VII.

ANGELINA'S DISAPPOINTMENT.

The Interceding Letter.

(CONTINUED.)

By Mrs. Anna Willis Price.

CHAPTER IV.

Angela did not attempt to analyze her emotions...

AGRICULTURAL.

Awful Railroad Slaughter!

Twenty-three Persons Killed.

SIXTY-FIVE WOUNDED.

How the Accident Occurred.

The train of cars which left Philadelphia at ten o'clock, Sunday morning, September 10, for Washington, D. C., was a passenger train, and
was composed of a locomotive, a baggage car, a
mail car, a dining car, a parlor car, a sleeping
car, and a Pullman car. It was a fine train, and was well equipped for the journey. It was a fine
train, and was well equipped for the journey.

CHAPTER VII.

ANGELINA'S DISAPPOINTMENT.

The Interceding Letter.

(CONTINUED.)

By Mrs. Anna Willis Price.

CHAPTER IV.

Angela did not attempt to analyze her emotions...

AGRICULTURAL.

Awful Railroad Slaughter!

Twenty-three Persons Killed.

SIXTY-FIVE WOUNDED.

How the Accident Occurred.

The train of cars which left Philadelphia at ten o'clock, Sunday morning, September 10, for Washington, D. C., was a passenger train, and
was composed of a locomotive, a baggage car, a
mail car, a dining car, a parlor car, a sleeping
car, and a Pullman car. It was a fine train, and was well equipped for the journey. It was a fine
train, and was well equipped for the journey.

CHAPTER VII.

ANGELINA'S DISAPPOINTMENT.

The Interceding Letter.

(CONTINUED.)

By Mrs. Anna Willis Price.

CHAPTER IV.

Angela did not attempt to analyze her emotions...

AGRICULTURAL.

Awful Railroad Slaughter!

Twenty-three Persons Killed.

SIXTY-FIVE WOUNDED.

How the Accident Occurred.

The train of cars which left Philadelphia at ten o'clock, Sunday morning, September 10, for Washington, D. C., was a passenger train, and
was composed of a locomotive, a baggage car, a
mail car, a dining car, a parlor car, a sleeping
car, and a Pullman car. It was a fine train, and was well equipped for the journey. It was a fine
train, and was well equipped for the journey.

CHAPTER VII.

ANGELINA'S DISAPPOINTMENT.

The Interceding Letter.

(CONTINUED.)

By Mrs. Anna Willis Price.

CHAPTER IV.

Angela did not attempt to analyze her emotions...

AGRICULTURAL.

Awful Railroad Slaughter!

Twenty-three Persons Killed.

SIXTY-FIVE WOUNDED.

How the Accident Occurred.

The train of cars which left Philadelphia at ten o'clock, Sunday morning, September 10, for Washington, D. C., was a passenger train, and
was composed of a locomotive, a baggage car, a
mail car, a dining car, a parlor car, a sleeping
car, and a Pullman car. It was a fine train, and was well equipped for the journey. It was a fine
train, and was well equipped for the journey.

CHAPTER VII.

ANGELINA'S DISAPPOINTMENT.

The Interceding Letter.

(CONTINUED.)

By Mrs. Anna Willis Price.

CHAPTER IV.

Angela did not attempt to analyze her emotions...